

GROUNDLESS ALARM.

The Silver party of Nevada is very much afraid that silver will regain its former status through the efforts of one of the old parties, and their capers to evade anything that would savor of assisting them in its restoration are ludicrous in the extreme.—News.

It is hard for anyone to imagine on what these fears are based. The Republican party demonetized silver in 1873, and have since fought every effort to remonetize it as a money metal. The leading Republicans are all anti-silver men and whenever one of them becomes a silver convert he leaves the Republican party.

The idea of anyone being afraid of the Republicans coming out for silver would be like a lot of old bums along the San Francisco city front organizing a Temperance Union.

The Correct Thing.

Whether those appointed to places shall in speech and action behave decently toward the Administration under which they hold office must remain to a large extent a matter of taste and good breeding. There are, however, some officials who devote themselves so industriously to villification and abuse of those under whom they hold office as to indicate that their fidelity cannot be trusted for the performance of their duties in a manner creditable to the Administration. In the interest of good Government, such officials must not be surprised if they are summarily dealt with.—Cleveland's Latest Letter.

The above has been quoted as showing that every appointee under Cleveland should get in line or expect to be bounced. That is just what it means and Cleveland has stated the principle correctly. A man who holds office by virtue of political appointment should have the good breeding not to vilify the appointing power. If it doesn't suit him he should resign like a gentleman before he begins to roar.

An Object Lesson.

A good, honest farmer was standing in front of the Courthouse a few days ago, says the Birmingham, Ala. Daily State, looking mournfully at his tax receipt. He said, "I brought a bale of cotton here five years ago, sold it for $49.25. With this money I paid my taxes, $22; got a dress for my wife, $5; shoes for the children, $6; a barrel of flour, $6.50; fifty pounds of sugar, $4; ten pounds of coffee, 2; and went home happy with $3.75 in my pocket for the preacher. I brought in a bale to day, sold it for $22.50; paid my taxes $22.25; and have a quarter left. They tell me I can get flour and frocks and sugar and shoes for half I paid then, but it 'pears to me that I haint got the half. I've about made up my mind to invest this quarter in United States bonds and howl for the gold standard."

Importing Japs.

The San Francisco Bulletin says that the United States contract labor laws are broken every few weeks by Japanese, who pour into the country by every steamer, under contract to farmers at Sacramento, Stockton, San Joaquin, Napa, Livermore and San Gabriel valleys. It says that ten thousand have found employment on farms for the past year to the exclusion of white men. A contract ring manages the importation of penniless Japs and lends them money.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Chauncey Depew said on his return from a flying trip West that the silver madness was already waning. The fact that the Democrats of Cook county, Ill., declared for the silver madness by 707 to 22 possibly seemed as the basis of Mr. Depew's opinion. The New Yorker had been informed that the people out West were unanimous for silver.

It is well to remember that the silver dollar, absolutely and unqualifiedly, was the sole and single unit of our monetary system for 81 years. The gold dollar was changed; the amount of alloy in the silver dollar was modified, but the amount of pure silver in the dollar remained the same.

The talk about this country being flooded with "foreign silver" is merest nonsense. All the silver in the world would not build 20 feet of the Washington monument. It would take 20 times as much silver as the supply of the world to build a single column the size of the monument at Washington.

Mrs. Montgomery a widow whose husband's estate was settled a few days ago nearly fainted when she saw the bill presented her by the attorney. When she recovered her senses she concluded it would be cheaper to marry the attorney, which she did.
